Contact information
Place this in the document header to save space and to make it recur on all pages. Never put your civil registration number or similar here.

Basic information
Details such as civil status, nationality, and age are optional supplements to the mandatory contact information above.

Profile
Is a summary of key elements in your profile - targeted the specific position or company. Focus on your unique selling points e.g. education, experience, qualifications, interests, motivation, and ambitions.

Picture
Not mandatory in Denmark, but the majority of Danish employers (approx. 70 %) prefer having it on the CV. Choose a picture tailored for a CV. Passport photo size with a white or neutral background, dress according to company/department dress code. Look the job!

Education
Education should always come before experience. Describe your studies, i.e. relevant electives and/or projects in relation to the job you are applying for, and always mention your case company, if possible. GPA: Optional, but may be a good selling point if it's high.

Relevant courses and projects
Describe your studies, i.e. mention relevant courses and projects in relation to the job you are applying for. Always mention your case company, if possible.

Other education / courses
Provide details about other education if it is a supplement to your primary education.

Job title
Choose a job title that says something about your responsibilities and tasks. Avoid "student assistant" or "student intern". It says nothing about the job profile.

Job description
Describe the job in 4-5 bullets and focus on what you will be able to use in your "new job". You should use specific examples and describe relevant projects in more detail. Most jobs can be quantified in one way or another. Try to do that.

Other experience
Do not underestimate the knowledge you have obtained through volunteer work and positions of trust. Described in the same way as your job experience.

Languages
Indicate all relevant languages including both oral and written proficiency. Scores from e.g. TOEFL test should be included. If you are presently learning Danish, state current module as well as that you are in process of learning.

IT
State your IT proficiency level.

Interests
It does matter! Keep in mind that you may have acquired several competences from being a competitive swimmer or playing the piano. Don't just write "travelling", but tell a more detailed story of your favorite way of travelling by an example.

References
You should only give references, if the job ad requires you to do so.
